Gov. Cox's Veracity Investigated

Small Boy Was Instantly Killed

Boy Run Down By Motorcycle

Little Fellow Knocked From Road and Rendered Unconscious. Died Few Hours Later

The remains of an unidenpified boy, aged about eight years, are at the morgue of M. T. Crowley, in Charleroi, as the result of a collision with a motorcycle yesterday afternoon on the brick road leading from Monessen to Pricedale. The tragedy occurred early in the afternoon just on this side of Pricedale and the story as told by the driver of the motorcycle, Edamo Nelici, is the only available one so far.

Nelici resides in Ashtabula, Ohio, and was on his way to West Newton, while the boy was in a buggy driving toward Monessen. Just as the motorcycle was approaching the buggy, the boy is alleged to have stopped the horse, climbed out of the buggy and darted into the middle of the road, directly in front of the fast moving machine. The driver says he was unable to stop the car in time to avert a collission and the boy was knocked to the ground. Mr. Nelici stopped his car and picked up the mortally wounded victim, and placing him in the car drove to Pricedale.

The news spread like fire through the village and soon a crowd of more than one hundred people had gathered, but no one was able to identify the boy. Dr. Davis of Charleroi was summoned and the victim was sent to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, where he remained in an unconscious condition until 3 o'clock this morning when death resulted.

The body was taken to the morgue to await identification, which, it is believed will be made before the end of the day, as the little fellow's parents evidently reside on a farm in

Truck and Cart Come Together

Colored Man Was Too Happy and Ride Ends in Disaster.

Quite a little excitement was caused on Schoonmaker avenue between First and Second street about 7 o'clock last evening, when a truck driven by Frank Chelan collided with a cart driven by a negro. The colored man had caused some comment earlier in the afternoon as he drove through the street with arms akimbo, singing merrily. He had a bright red cap perched on his head and was visibly under the influence of liquor. As he was going down the street toward the lower end of town, the cart run into the truck and the man was thrown out. He landed with terrific force on the sidewalk. People in the vicinity ran to the man who was found to be unconscious. He was removed to a doctor's office where he was found to be suffering from a broken collar bone and numerous fractures. After the injuries were dressed he was removed to his home in Donora. His name could not be learned. When the cart and truck collided, the horse never stopped but was caught later at the lower end of town.

ROBBINS HOMESTEAD SOLD

An unconfirmed, yet undenied report was current in Greensburg Saturday that the residence and furnishings of the home of the late Congressman E. E. Robbins had been sold, the consideration being $70,000. The property has been on the market for some time.

SENSATIONAL INVESTIGATION OF GOV. COX SLUSH FUND STATEMENT ATTRACTING ATTENTION

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Senatorial investigation of Gov. Cox's charge that the Republican national committee was planning to a raise $15,000,000 campaign fund, and that "sinister interests" were trying to "buy an underhold on the presidency" was begun here today.

Opening of the Senate committee's inquiry found Republican party leaders in an aggressive mood.

"We'll nail Cox's charges with his own hammer," declared Will H. Hays chairman of the Republican national committee, as he prepared to take the witness stand to be questioned by Senators Kenyon and Reed, who will conduct the inquiry.

Hays took with him to the hearing room in the Federal building carefully prepared statements showing, he said, that instead of being $15,000,000, as Gov. Cox charged, the Republican national budget is $3,076,060.

Hays and Fred Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee, were scheduled as the first witnesses. Upham was armed with books and papers which he said would disclose to the committee in short order, "the complete falsity and absurdity" of Cox's allegations.

"We're ready to show the committee the names of the contributors the amounts contributed, and to tell in detail about our plans for financing this campaign," said Hays. "We are grateful indeed to Gov. Cox for giving us this opportunity of telling the country how we have decentralized our financial arrangements and are now getting the funds to conduct the campaign from a large number of Republicans all over the country instead of from a few men on one street in one city. We have been trying for a whole year to acquaint the American people with this and Mr. Cox has kindly assisted us."

Hays spoke aggressively of making Cox "prove his charges" and in the next breath added "but he cannot do so because they are false." However, Hays said, "Cox will be given a chance to explain some of his own funds."

George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Wilbur Marsh, its treasurer, arrived today to attend the investigation which Senator Kenyon, chairman of the committee promised would be impartial and as searching as the committee can make it.

"Many charges and counter charges have been made to this committee," said Kenyon. "We'll sift to bottom of every one. We will do exact justice to everyone and show the facts, whatever they may be."

Representative James W. Good, of Iowa, today asked Kenyon to investigate alleged violations of the corrupt practices act by the Democrats. Good declared that Wilbur Marsh, as treasurer, sent letters to Federal employes, virtually assessing them for the Democratic campaign fund. Good said he was ready to submit the letters to the committee, one of them having been written, he said to a woman postmaster, demanding that she pay three per cent of her salary into the Democratic war chest.

The committee also had before it the charge of Representative Britten that the British embassy in Washington had provided $87,500 for the Democratic campaign fund. Britten declared this sum, appropriated by the British government for the use of Ambassador Geddes, was dispensed through British "propaganda agents" to create sentiment for the league of nations.

Something Doing

Washington Crossing, N. J., Aug 30—It looks as if there would be something doing here tomorrow when the Rev. Frederick S. Kopfman appears before the trustees to complain about the way bathers in Delaware dress and behave.

The folks rusticating at the resort swear they'll greet the minister with aged eggs and others missiles, and he says he'll wither them with his words. As Kopfman was driving through town yesterday, following a sermon on immodest dress, he was assailed by a crowd which pelted him with missiles. Despite the bombardment, he stood upin the auto, shook his fist and promised to come back to renew his combat.

—Mrs. Joseph Stokus of McMahan avenue who is a patient in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital as a result of an operation, is recovering nicely and will be able to return home next week.

Common Pleas Court Opened

Monessen Men on the Grand Jury -- others Called to Aid Machinery--Sentence Pronounced on Many

The August term of court opened at Greensburg this morning and many local people were called, both to perform jury service and to serve as witnesses. B. E. Brown, the local jeweler has been drawn as a grand juror and there will be several from town who will serve on the common pleas jury. Sentence court was held over from Saturday on account of the absence of Judge A. D. McConnell and preceeded the opening of court this morning.

Quite a number of persons who have entered pleas to the charge against them expected to be sentenced this morning. An unusually busy session of court is promised for all week and prabably two weeks following.

It has been announced that all the bail cases will be carried over until the next term. There are upwards of 200 cases already entered for the term and it is said many cases have not been entered with the intention of carrying them over to the next term.

Sunday School Convention Big Sucess

Election of Officers for Ensuing Year. Good Music Rendered.

The annual convention of the Monessen District Sunday School association was held yesterday afternoon in the Christian church of this city.

In the afternoon Mr. W. C. Silsley, of Greensburg spoke on "Sunday School Trackage" and the talk proved both interesting and instructive. Reports were heard from the district officers and special music featured the meting.

At the evening session, Mrs. Pinkie Lynch and W. O. Williams rendered solos which were much appreciated, and music was also furnished by a large union choir under the direction of Ben Hughes. Mr. Silsley again spoke on "Shepherding the Lambs", and Judge Snyder of Greensburg, spoke on "The Bible, the Text Book of the Master Teacher."

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Roger Richards; vice-president, Lorrin Culler; secretary, Miss Lila Bost; Treasurer, Miss Harriett Williams; Supt. Children's Division, Mrs. Robert Pickering; Young People's Society, Mrs Jos. Clonan; financial treasurer, Rev A C. Van Suan; temperance and Missionary supt. Mrs. J. M. Patton; Home department supt., Mrs. T. E Luce.

The convention was declared to be one of the most successful yet held and is looked forward to each year by those interested in Sunday school work

PLEASANT SURPRISE PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Darr was the scene of a pleasant surprise party Saturday evening in honor of Mr. Darr's 41st birthday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Nicely, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Watson, Mrs. A. Hazelbaker and daughter, Mrs. C. Stapleton, and Messrs. A. R. Anderson, Milt Goss, Miss Emma McKim of Butler. An excellent lunch was served and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Arrested on Complaint of Health Officer

R. Combardis who conducts a small store at 449 Schoonmaker avenue, was before Burgess Stewart this morning, at the instigation of Health Officer B. H. Clendennon. The charge against the man was carelessness in keeping his screen doors closed to prevent the flies from getting into the store. He had been warned of the law in this matter according to the officer and at the hearing he admitted that he forgot to keep the door closed. The burgess imposed a fine of $1.00 and costs in order to help him remember in the future.

Civil strife broke out in a house at Twelfth and Morgan avenue yesterday afternoon which resulted in shooting. When the guns began to fire, neighbors called the police and a raid was made on the place. Three colored men were placed under arrest and were fined $15.00 and $20.00 respectively, according to their part in the pistol play. The money was paid and the men released.

County Treasurer Jesse Hancock and Editor C. L. Schuck left Saturday afternoon for Van Buren Point, N. Y., to join their families and will return with them about the middle of the week.

State Police Return Much Stolen Property

Harrisburg, Aug. 28.—More than $82,000 worth of stolen property was recovered and returned to the citizens of the State by the Department of State Police during July, according to a statement issued here today by Major Lynn G Adams, the superintendent. The amount is far in excess of any previous month this year.

Stolen motor cars, valued at $49,635, were recovered from automobile bandits; live stock worth $375 was regained, and jewelry to the extent of $1281 was taken from thieves. Considerable other miscellaneous material that has been stolen was picked up by the troopers of the five troops.

They arrested 1,032 persons for various offenses. 755 of whom were whites of American birth. The other individuals were negroes and foreigners. Caught in the police net during July were 988 males and 44 women.

Violators of the state's automobile laws formed the largest group of offenders arrested last month by the police, 332 of them being picked up. Fifteen were arrested for murder, 74 for larceny, 3 for arson and 413 for miscellaneous petty misdemeanors.

Instantly Killed When Struck by Telegraph Pole

Leslie Willis, colored, age 38 years was killed almost instantly Saturday night while hanging on a crowded street car coming from Allenport and bound for Charleroi. He had boarded an overcrowded car at the Allenport stop and was unable to get inside the car, and while hanging on the outside the car rounded a curve at the Beechwood park stop, where the poles are very close to the track and a pole struck Willis on the head a tremendous blow and he was knocked to the ground. The car was brought to a standstill and the injured man taken aboard. He was removed to the hospital where he died three hours later. The unfortunate man was a workman in the plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Products company and has a wife living in Allenport. Coroner Greenlee will hold an investigation today

Twelve Thousand Car Men Go Out on Strike

(By United Press)

New York, Aug. 30—Brooklyn's surface car lines were tied up today by a strike of employes of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. Strike leaders estimated 12,000 men were out. Thousands of persons rode to work today in improvised jitney buses, or walked.

The interborough subway system, which goes into Brooklyn, was unaffected and its underground stations were stormed by immense crowds fighting for a foothold aboard its trains. Extra police were stationed near the car barns and at all points where rioting was feared. The company may plan to run cars with strike-breakers during the day. Strikers were massed at the barns and it looked as if another battle would result in violence. The B. R. T. subway operated a few two-car trains with policemen in charge, but the bulk of the passengers were carried by surface cars.

The strike was called at a mass meeting of employes early Sunday morning. There were such needy officers of the Amalgamation of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America manager[illegible] action, and the men [illegible] mic postponement. A few hours later they met again, however, and decided to strike.

The company is in the hands of a receiver, Lindley M. Garrison former secretary of war, who believes he cannot grant the men's demands without the consent of the court which put the company into receiver hap. The strikers say what they want is arbitration of their demands for increased wages and a change from 8 to 47 per cent. They charge the company to [illegible] to be bound by an arbitration [illegible] Garrison's attitude is, it was stated at the company's offices, that he never agree to be bound by an award which the B. R. T might not be able to pay.

Airplane Fall Not Serious

Thrown from an airplane when it was demolished against a fence as engine trouble prevented it from leaving the ground Miss Nellie Good of McKeesport, a passenger, and Joseph Diamond, of McKeesport, pilot, escaped with slight injuries. The plane, owned by R. L. Close, had been used for training purposes at Dravosburg. The machine had completed a flight with Miss Bess Good, sister of the injured girl, as passenger, just previous to the accident.

SYMPATHIZERS BUSY

Dublin, Aug. 30.—Sinn Fein sympathizers killed 78 policemen, 11 soldiers and 18 civilians in Ireland between January 1 and August 21, according to an official statement issued here today. In the same period 134 policemen, 46 soldiers and 49 civilians were wounded.

In a pastoral letter, Cardinal Logue denounced the theory that it is a lawful act of war to shoot anyone wearing a policeman's uniform, declaring he preferred to "call it by its true name of murder."

America Wins Three of Four Events

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Brussels, Aug. 30—America added to its rowing laurels by winning three of their four events yesterday and finishing second in the other.

The most popular races were the eight-oar, which the Navy crew won, and the single scull went to Jack Kelly of Philadelphia.

The United States Naval Academy crew established a new world record for 2,000 meters in 6 minutes, 5 seconds, defeating the Leander crew of British stars by half a length.

Kelly's time in the single sculls was 7 minutes, 35 seconds. Both he and the Englishman, Beresford, were exhausted at the finish.

In the double sculls, with Coxswain Kelly and Paul Costello won in 7 minutes, 9 seconds with Italy second, and France third.

Switzerland won the four-oared race in 6 minutes, 54 seconds with the Philadelphia barge club and Norway third

In the two-oared race, with Coxswain, in which America hand no entry, Italy was first, France, second, and Switzerland third.

Charleroi Wins From Monessen--Now a Tie

In a game featured by the numerous errors of Shortstop Destefano and Second Baseman Gibson, the Charleroi McIlvaines easily defeated the Page Steel and Wire team Saturday by a score of 6 to 2. Krepps was on the mound for the locals and pitched an excellent game, striking out twelve of the opposing basemen and hitting them down with five scattered hits, but time and again the infield would fall down on easy at the chance allowing the visitors to score.

Monessen presented a rather patchup appearance, being without the services of Terry, the hard hitting first baseman, Hansend on the second and King on short, in fact they had not enough players to put a team on the field and were compelled to borrow two of the Charleroi substitutes.

Taylor added some life to the contest when in the sixth inning he tied the score with a home run wallop that traveled far onto the carnival grounds and was not fielded until he had crossed the home plate. He again singled in the eighth and scored on a two base hit by Costello.

The Charleroi team presented a greatly strengthened lineup but was at the mercy of Krepps The game was tiresome, due to the numerous misplays of the shortstop and second baseman, for the locals. The victory brings the series up on even terms, each team having won two games, but it is hardly likely that the deciding contest will be played, owing to the inability of the locals to place a first class team on the diamond.

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

INCREASING PRODUCTION

One of the great difficulties that business men run up against in their effort to increase production, is green help. The new man on the job cannot deliver the regular output of work, and everybody along the line after him is slowed up by his failure. Everyone get sore at him. By and by he gets discouraged and quits. Then the shop has to go over the same process of breaking in another new hand, very likely with the same result.

The United States Department of Labor estimates that the average cost of hiring a new man into a shop is from $10 to $250, with an average of $50. When you consider that the output of a whole factory suffers by the presence of green help who cannot do their part, it seems a low estimate.

In many cases a beginner is left so much to himself that he never has a chance to become skilful. A foreman may give him a little of his time and then turn him over to some other worker who has no particular object to see that the new man makes a success of it.

The green hand stumbles his way along, and is not clearly shown just what he ought to do at every step. He easily gets into a slipshod way of working, and is content if he can barely get by. As he develops into a mediocre workman, he is likely to get only ordinary pay. He often gets sick of his job and wants to try something else.

One factory employing 8,000 men found during the war that it was losing 15 per cent of its green help every month. This kept the factory constantly disorganized. It put in a training department to develop better production, and as a result it then lost only 1 per cent of its trained men each month. Every business the small concern as well as the big one, will find it pays to take pains to train its beginners thoroughly. A constantly changing force will never turn out a good production.

LABOR DAY

The time was when manual labor was viewed with a great deal of contempt. People were ashamed to have it known that they worked with their hands. They would scramble for jobs in which they could sit on tall desk stools and wear clean cuffs and alpaca coat, or hand out ladies' dress goods over a counter.

During recent years the world has learned a new respect for honest labor. This has been partly because the workers by better organization have made themselves a power that has to be reckoned with. Sometimes this power has not been wisely used. But it has at least given the manual workers a powerful voice in the management of industry.

People now have a greater regard for anyone who produces things. The world dislikes idlers and parasites. It feels that too many people are able to live without production, by manipulating products of other men's toils. It feels that every one should do something that will add to human welfare. Whether it be labor or of brain makes little difference.

The man who does hard muscular work is entitled to particular credit. He meets all the dirt and grime of life which people naturally shrink from. He offers his strength in patient toil, suffering weariness and fatigue.

Labor Day was created as a kind of festival for the workers of the world, particularly for those who work in inconspicuous ways, and who perform the more exhausting tasks of physical labor. It is also the day for all who give honest endeavor to tasks of any kind. For most people it is simply a pleasant respite from daily duties. So far as it is the occasion of public observances, it emphasizes the dignity of all kinds of service.

KEEPING CHILDREN IN IN SCHOOL

The one great fault of the American school system is that it fails to hold millions of children beyond the upper grades of grammar school. Children who quit at the seventh grade go out into the world unfitted for life or citizenship.

In some cases this is due to poor teaching, which lacks the power of keeping children interested. But in still more cases, it is due to the fact that parents need, or think they need the money that children can earn.

No child should be permitted to leave school at a premature age, until his parents have been seen and urged not to spoil the future of their young people. For children whose parents do really need the money, more effort should be made to find profitable employment for them while they attend school.

Formerly the people who didn't go to church used to say they went out to worship the God of nature. Now they are down on their knees removing a punctured tire.

5000 immigrants a day pouring into Ellis Island, so here's hoping some of them are hired girls willing to do something more than ornament the back porch.

While a lot of the women writers are discussing politics, a lot of the men editors are having much to say about women's clothes.

SECOND ESCAPE IN WEEK

Escaping from the detention room on the second floor of Central Police Station yesterday afternoon by sliding down a rope made from bed clothing, Charles Bowers, aged 15, of 3309 Liberty avenue, was captured within an hour hiding on the trucks of a freight car in the Panhandle freight yards of the Pennsylvania railroad, Grant street, Pittsburgh. The escape was the second the boy had made during the past week, the first occurring when he got past the guards at Thorn Hill School, where he had been an inmate for almost a year. The youth had only a few days more to serve at Thorn Hill when he fled.

Patrolman Clarence Everett and Motorcycle Policeman J. R. Walker, saw the young boy sliding down his improvised rope. The officers gave chase but the youth managed to elude them in the vicinity of the railroad yards. A call for assistance was sent out and a dozen officers, headed by Police Commissioner John C. Calhoun, surrounded the yards. After nearly an hour's hunt the boy was found beneath a freight car. He was turned over to an officer from Thorn Hill and taken back to finish his sentence.

Bowers was arrested Saturday by police of the Forty-third street station from a description sent out following his escape from Thorn Hill, where he was sent on a charge of incorrigibility.

No License Necessary for Cider

Harrisburg, Aug. 30.—Farmers in Pennsylvania who grow their own apples, may make their apples into cider and hold this cider until it has fermented into cider vinegar without securing any kind of a license or permit from the Federal prohibition or internal revenue authorities.

This information is contained in a letter to Director James Foust, of the Bureau of Foods, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, from John F. Kramer, of Washington, D. C., Prohibition Commissioner for the United States.

Recently a number of technical and confusing rulings on the cider situation were issued from the prohibiton enforcement offices at Washington. These rulings were confusing to the farmers and in many sections of Pennsylvania farmers were permitting their apples to rot on the ground, rather than take chances of running afoul of the prohibition laws by making cider for vinegar purposes, being under the impression that it was necessary to secure a license or permit.

Director Foust in calling on the farmers of the State to make their surplus apples into cider vinegar points out that by making the apples into cider and storing this cider way on their own premises until it becomes vinegar they may realize a good profit and run no risk whatever of violating the prohibition laws. The farmer may do this without securing a permit of any kind.

In selling sweet cider, the farmers run a chance of selling a beverage containing more than one half of one per cent of alcohol, in which case, he is liable to fine and imprisonment. By holding his cider until it is vinegar, according to Director Foust, he runs absolutely no risk and secures an excellent return for his fruit and labors.

Farmers desiring still further information on the cider situation should write to John F. Kramer, Prohibition Commissioner, Washington, D. C.

First Women to Hold Public Office

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Miss Francis Key of Charleston will be the first woman public office holder in West Virginia. Immediately upon announcement of the decision of First Assistant Attorney General Frank Lively yesterday that women are now qualified under the equal suffrage amendment to hold office in the state. Miss Key, for the last 24 years a clerk in the office of the secretary of state, filed application at the Kanawha County Court house for a preliminary certificate of appointment as notary public.

Miss Key's application will go to Gov. Cornwell today. Houston G. Young, Secretary of state, said there was no doubt but that it would be granted.

APPLYING FOR OLD POSITION

New Castle, Aug. 29.—Former yard employees of the railroads in this district are applying for their old positions in large numbers. Leaders of the men say the strike has not been called off, but that the men have tired of their vacations and want to return to work. Francis J. Percy, general trainmaster of the E. & A. division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, said yesterday that a number of the old men had been placed at work. Both Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania officials say former employees aver 45 will not be re-employed.

All the men accepted are returning as new men and without seniority rights.

Policeman Shot By Own Revolver

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Flem Anderson, a city policeman, was shot and killed at midnight with his own pistol at a street corner in the heart of Charleston by a negro, police say. His slayer escaped. The two men, to all appearances, were engaged in friendly conversation when the negro suddenly snatched the policeman's pistol from his hip, fired three shots into his body and fled. Chief of Police Carnock says

—Mr and Mrs. A. Schrofer and son and daughter, of Crafton, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hall of Knox avenue.

—Mr and Mrs J. J. Libel and two sons, of Cumberland Md., are visitors of the latter's mother, Mrs. J. Cutler of McKee avenue and her sister, Mrs. E. S. Smock of Donner avenue

May Prove Solution of Newsprint Shortage

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 29.—Development of the wood pulp industry in national forest areas of Alaska furnishes a real solution of the newsprint shortage in America, W. B. Greeley, chief forester of the United States, declared today upon his arrival here after a month's inspection of timber, water power and other resources of the territory.

General Strike Ordered Issued

Wilkes-Barre, Aug. 29.—Action that amounts to a general strike order of 175,000 union miners of the anthracite coal field was taken early this morning by 300 delegates of the mine locals after a bitter session that lasted throughout the night. President Woodrow Wilson received direct warning of the complete failure between the operators and workers. Officials of the United Mine Workers, who entered into the agreement with the wage commission, were ruled out of the hall and told they had betrayed the workers' interests. Officers of the United States Department of Justice were informed that no threat of enforcement of the Lever Act could deter the mine workers.

At the end of the meeting a telegram was drafted and signed by a committee of five men. It informs the chief executive and the creator of the coal wage commission that he has three days in which to sign the minority report of Neil Ferry or throw out the entire case of the miners and order a rehearing. "The minority report of Mr. Ferry is the only one that can be accepted for the promotion of peace," is the warning of the telegram. "An answer on or before September 1 is required; otherwise all mine workers will refrain from work."

State Forestry Dept. to Supply Trees

Harrisburg, Aug. 30.—Approximately 200 municipalities in this State are taking advantage of the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry's offer to supply free shade trees to towns and cities. Letters from many of them received by John W. Keller chief of the bureau of silviculture, who is in charge of the department's shade tree work, indicate that they have already named their shade tree commissions. Other boroughs are preparing to organize commissions, and still other cities are asking for further information. The 200 inquiries received at the department shows about one-fifth of the State's municipalities contemplate extensive shade tree planting this fall and next spring.

The wide-spread interest in Forester Pinchot's proposition has created an unexpected demand for the free shade trees offered. One city alone asked for all the trees available. Another city asked for 500 shade trees, and scores of smaller requests have been filed. Keller said he has virtually promised all the shade trees available this year to early applicants, so that many towns will be disppointed.

In view of the revived interest in shade tree planting by the cities and towns, the Department of Forestry plans to increase its nurseries immediately to grow the trees needed. The four nurseries cover about 30 acres, and they will be expanded to forty acres probably. Possibly a special nursery will be established in the central part of the state to grow shade trees exclusively.

PLAYED FEW "SAFETY SHOTS"

Men Who Have Won Success in Life's Game Satisfied With Nothing but Victory.

Walter Hagen, the golfer, says: "Never play for a safety, but always try for the cup."

Kings in other trades as well as in golf have found that it pays to "try for the cup," remarks "Girard" in the Philadelphia Press.

Safety shots are often careless shots in business as in play.

Rockefeller played six hole out in the oil world and he made a par and then some.

Morgan hammered the ball straight for the flag and it flew above every bunker and sand pit in the financial world.

Old "Tom" Scott had no safety shots in his bag when directing out the Pennsylvania road system, nor did Franklin B. Gowen when he made his master stroke in buying the Reading's coal lands.

Theodore N. Vail the telephone giant never missed his game nor resorted to a mid shot to save his face. He went out with the long stroke and came home to the final shot with a record card to his credit.

The big league teams play to win the game not to win a compromise or tie the other team.

The great merchant nails his flag to the mast, says "damn the torpedoes," and she is steered at his target.

So in business as on the links the edge should be "All in your hand and play for it."

Officials in Ireland Quitting, Say Sinn Fein

(By United Press)

London, Aug 15—Hundreds of judicial and police officials in Ireland are handing in their resignations—unwilling, the frequent Sinn Fein announcements state, "to continue to help militarism."

A recent Sinn Fein bulletin announced the resignation of 115 officials under the British government who resigned within four weeks. A later list gives the names of sixty-two magistrates, police officials and constables, some of whom had served for over forty years, who gave up their jobs within a fortnight.

The government apparently is finding increasing dificulty filling positions in Ireland. Sinn Fein is givng great encouragement to policemen who resign—hailing them as comrades and taking unusual care to see that they do not lose anything by leaving the British service. In addition to announcing that they are personal grata in Sinn Fein circles, what amount to employment agencies have been opened to them.

The most recent list of resignations gives twenty-six magistrates, six high police officials whose service averaged over thirty years, eleven minor officials nome of whom had served less than twenty-five years, and twenty-eight constables, who had served anywhere up to forty yeras.

In nearly all cases the men resigning are those off long service. Sinn Feiners are hailing the defections as signs of the wane of British rule in Ireland, though they have aroused little comment here.

Great difficulty has been forecast in obtaining judges for the Irish courts to be established under the Restoration of Order in Ireland bill, which was recently passed by Parliament. Magistrates have shown extreme reticence in accepting posts in Ireland, as many regard acceptance as practically a death warrant.

Ebert's House Needs Repairs

(By United Press)

Berlin—Though the government has managed to scrape up enough funds to remodel, repaint and repaper the foreign office, it hasn't seen its way clear to making repairs on hte "palace" of President Ebert. As a result, the roof looks leaky and certainly needs a new coat of shingles. The exterior needs scrubbing, and the interior could stand embellishing.

Success of Irish Loan Termed as Victor Over "Militarism"

(By United Press)

London, Aug. 16—Oversubscription by £50,000 of the Irish Republican loan which Eamonn de Valera promoted in the United States has been hailed by Sinn Fein as a victory of "the popular will over intense military aggression."

It was planned to raise £250,000 by the loan. A campaign was started in Ireland a year ago, and subscriptions there as well as in the United States were heavy. The campaign was continued until a few weeks ago, when it was announcel that the loan had been largely oversubscribed despite what Sinn Feiners claimed were superhuman efforts of the British government in Ireland to suppress it.

In an announcement of the success of the loan, the Sinn Fein propoganda department recited a list of scores of arrests, raids and imprisonments by the Royal Irish Constabulary in the futile effort to prevent the raising of money, as the loan announcement said, for "agricultural and industrial development," and for financing the Dail Eireann constructive program.

From the time the loan started there were frequent arrests of alleged promoters, the bulletin claimed. Meetings in favor of the loan were raided, and newspapers which advocated it or accepted advertisements in its interest were suppressed. At various times, all Ireland was placarded by night with loan posters, which the police promptly removed the next day. Many instances of arrests of individuals are cited, with consequent imprisonment at hard labor, for working in the interest of the loan or even for being found with loan propaganda. In one case cited in the bulletin as typical, a man was arrested for having in his possession a loan prospectus. Many of the men arrested were members of Parliament.

So effective was the policy of suppression, the Sinn Fein announcement states, that just before the completion of the loan the campaign in its behalf was almost abandoned. Despite this, the subscriptions continued to a successful finish.

Canal to Bring Montreal Closer

(By United Press)

Montreal, Que., Aug. 30—Montreal wants to be nearer New York. And while the city will never change its situation, it may yet become 88 miles closer to the American metropolis, at least so far as freight shipments and costs are concerned.

Canadian shipping interest propose to effect the change by means of a large canal from Montreal to St Johns, Quebec. The proposition will be put before the international joint commission, which is to meet here in October to consider St. Lawrence river development

At present Montreal is 458 miles from New York by canal and river. The route is now 46 miles down the St. Lawrence river to Sorel, Que., and then 412 miles up the Richelieu river to Lake Champlain and the Hudson river. But by cutting a canal through the twenty miles between Montreal and St. Johns, 108 miles would be saved, or a net gain made of 88 miles.

Existing canals at the Canadian end of the system are only 6 feet six inches deep and with a capacity of only 300-ton barges. Those in the United States are of a standard 12-foot draft, and will take care of barges of 1800 tons.

The proposed canal was first suggested before the war but actual work was delayed by hostilities. The river-canal system is declared more profitable because it hits into the eastern industrial and coal district of the United States, while the Great Lakes system does not.

Want More Justice For Brazil's Court

(By United Press.)

Rio de Janeroi—The supreme court of Brazil is about to sound the S. O. S. for more justices. It is six years behind in its work.

In 1891 when Rio became the capital of a republic instead of the seat of an empire, the first decree of the new government created a supreme court of justic similiar to the highest tribunal of the United States. Since that time the number of cases before the court has steadily mounted until now they reach into the thousands in a single year.

At present there are fifteen justices. Last year there were 16000 cases presented for hearing. Only 600 were decided, however in that time.

BIG TREE YIELDED TO AGE

Chestnut in Which Washington Is Said to Have Hidden Collapses at Yonkers, New York.

Maybe there's no truth in the tradition that George Washington once hid in the hollow trunk of the great chestnut tree that until recently stood in the front yard of Charles F. Coy, Yonkers, New York. But folk thereabout believe he did, just as they believe that the tree was 700 or 800 years old when it died a few years ago, and was the oldest and biggest tree of any variety not only in Westchester county but in New York state.

The trunk, which was about 35 feet tall and about 35 feet in circumference, according to Mr. Coy, was cut down by the department of public works of Yonkers, and its dismembered remains carted away. Said Mr. Coy:

"Before it died that tree produced the biggest and sweetest tasting chestnuts I ever saw. After its death a vine that covered it made it still an object of beauty, just as its vast size and age made it an object of admiration.

"The top was broken off about the time it died. I never knew its exact height. But I do know that a deal of tradition had grown up around it and that it commonly was rated the largest tree in this part of the country. I am sure it was the biggest in this county."

TO DESTROY INSECT PESTS

Two Forms of Insecticides Necessary for Successful Protection of Plants and Foliage.

Do not waste your time spraying paris green on insects that suck the juices from plants and foliage, such as lice, green, black and white aphis or fly, mealy bug red spider and scale, by thrusting their proboscis into the leaf or stem, for they are not affected by stomach poisons. They must be destroyed by contact insecticides. Those in powder form kill by closing the breathing pores in the insect's skin, or in fluid form by being absorbed through these pores, the American Forestry Magazine points out. The best contact insecticides in powder form are hellebore, slug shot and tobacco dust. The best in fluid form are aphine, black leaf 40, fish (whale) oil soap, nicotine (tobacco extract), kerosene, miscible oil and lemon oil.

Insects that eat plants, foliage vegetables, fruits, flowers, etc whether bugs, beetles, worms, caterpillars or slugs are more quickly and effectually destroyed with a poisonous stomachic insecticide such as arsenate of lead paris green or hellebore. These, if applied according to directions, are so diluted as to be harmless to vegetation and to animal life. Less poisonous stomachic and contact insecticides are kerosene emulsion, slug shot, etc.

Boy "Policeman'" Gets Results.

Bill Zerbe, formerly of Indianapolis, is motorcycle policeman in the Logansport police department. Both the young and old know Bill because of his record as a tamer of speeders.

A few days ago the driver of an automobile permitted the motor of his machine to run while he went into a store. When he came out he found a piece of paper in the front seat of the car. On the paper were these words: "You are pinched for permitting the engine of your machine to run over 15 minutes. Bill Zerbe."

The driver of the car went to police headquarters to pay his fine and exhibit the evidence that he had been caught. On being assured that the paper presented had not been prepared by Zerbe, the driver of the machine recalled that he had seen a small boy with a broad grin on his face standing near when he started toward the police station.—Indianapolis News.

Electricity to Locate Metal.

The idea of using current transmitted through the earth as a means of locating metal ores is familiar, the belief being that the greater conductivity of these metalliferous regions can be clearly indicated, and the area mapped out, says the Scientific American. The location of oil deposits, which according to the Electrical Review is now being investigated electrically, presents a converse problem. In this case the insulating properties of the oil diminish the current, and oil-bearing regions are detected accordingly. In view of the great depth to which it is often necessary to bore for oil—oil that only exists simultaneously with an almost oil-free area above—the method would seem to have limitations, but it has doubtless possibilities in dealing with surface oil areas.

That Decided Him.

George was in a despondent mood. "But, Mabel, dear," he said, "marriage is out of the question just now. You seem to have forgotten that I'm a poor clerk on a meager salary."

"Oh, George, don't let poverty interfere with our happiness. We can live on one meal a day, if necessary."

"But you know nothing of household duties, sweetheart. Why, you can't even cook."

"Indeed, I can, love. I have kept it secret from you but the time has come for my confession. George, dear, I got a certificate from a domestic science school three months ago."

The young man gasped. "My darling," he said, "come to my arms. It shall be as you wish—one meal a day will be more than enough."

A Profitable Investment

Houses not wired for electric service are not in the "all modern improvements" class.

Tenants taboo them as being inconvenient, uneconomical and unfashionable.

Landlords find them hard to rent, difficult to sell and expensive to insure.

Your friends and neighbors who own, buy, sell or rent houses, will substantiate these facts. Eliminate these drawbacks by having your houses wired.

A-B-C Super Electric
America's Leading Washing Machine

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING INSTITUTE

Says the A B C Is O. K.

Good Housekeeping's approval of the A B C Super Electric is just like a guarantee. You take no chances whatever in buying it. An impractical washer cannot get the approval of this organization, which tests household appliances to determine their practical value.

Miss Mildred Maddocks, the Director of Good Housekeeping Institute, has written especially for "The A B C of Wash Day"—book which we'll give you—her ideas on "How to Machine Wash." Come in and get your copy. It is full of suggestions you cannot find elsewhere.

Our demonstrator will gladly show you how to save your time and money by following the simplified method of washing. Talk to her, and ask for our copy of this helpful boook. She will answer any questions you wish to ask about the A B C Super Electric washing machine. It is essential to good housekeeping.

Decide on an A B C and be sure.

BERT LYTELL Metro Star

FRIDAY

"Out of my sight! You're as guilty as hell!" These were the contemptuous words the attorney shot at the man he had just cleared of a murder charge. Why? Yet had you known the attorney—Charley Steele, dashing, impeccable in his dress, possessed at once of a compelling magnetism and charm and maddening superciliousness—you might have expected it. He is the principal character in the Metro Picture

"The Right of Way"

From Sir Gilbert Parker's great novel
BERT LYTELL Is The Star

Boy Run Down By Motorcycle

Rostraver township. The driver of the motorcycle remained near the boy during the entire day and seemed greatly disturbed over the results of the accident but he left before his victim died

The police department in Monessen was notified shortly after the accident and chief Cooper is putting forth every effort to help identify the boy

The body was identified this morning at 10 o'clock as that of Walter Yazan of Third street, Monessen, and will be brought here to the home of the parents It has been stated later that the little fellow was hanging on behind a buggy and stepped out as the motorcycle attempted to pass and the driver of the vehicle is unknown at this time
